IV. GENERAL PROVISIONS

DataLink is a service that provides web based viewing access to interval load data, which data has been collected by the Company. The service gives a subscribing customer the option of viewing the collected load data on an hourly or daily basis.

Customers that do not have interval metering must have an interval meter installed by the Company at Customer's expense to enable such data collection. Customers requiring an upgrade to interval metering may elect to pay for the interval meter installation either through a one-time charge or through a recurring charge paid monthly during the term of, and extension of, the contract term.

The Company can transmit the collected interval data through a telephone line or by wireless communication. Customers who must install interval metering for DataLink Service may choose telephone or wireless communication. Customers who currently have interval metering where data is transmitted by telephone line for billing purposes may continue that method or may elect to have data transmitted by way of wireless communication. If wireless communication is elected, the Customer may elect a one-time charge to pay for the wireless communication or may pay a recurring monthly charge for this service.
